DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

To have a general inventive concept under PCT rule 13.1, the inventions need to be linked by a special technical feature. The special technical feature that appears to link claims 1-36 are RSPs (Raman Signature Probes) and their use in target binding/detection. However, RSPs have been taught by the prior art. For example, US Patent #5,814,516, the references to Benko and Yu et al. (Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, USA, 1983, Vol.80, No.22, pages 7042-7046), and Ma and Li (Applied Spectroscopy, 1994, Vol.48, No.12., pages 1529-1531) disclose methods of preparing and utilizing RSPs. See the entire references. Therefore the technical feature recited in claims 1-36 is not a contribution over the prior art. Accordingly the groups set forth below are not so linked as to form a single general concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

2. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- A. Group I, claim(s) 1-9, are drawn to a method of detecting a target by contacting the target with an RSP, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1 and class 436, subclass 501 for example. (A first method/process that utilizes the special technical features – RSP probe).

Art Unit: 1641

- B. Group II, claims 10-21 and 34, are drawn to a method of preparing and utilizing an RSP, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1 and class 436, subclass 501 for example. (A second method employing the special technical feature and a 2nd RSP probe).
 - C. Group III, claims 22-28 and 35, are drawn to a method of preparing and utilizing an RSP, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1 and class 436, subclass 501 for example. (A third method employing the special technical feature and a 3rd RSP probe).
 - D. Group IV, claims 29-33 and 36, are drawn to a method of preparing and utilizing a converted RSP, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1 and class 436, subclass 501 for example. (A fourth product comprising the special technical feature and a 4th converted RSP).
3. The inventions listed as Groups A through D do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Under PCT rules Applicant is entitled to an examination of one of the combination groupings: (1) a product, a method of using said product and a method of producing said product. The instant claims are directed to multiple methods and products. Accordingly, Applicant must select one for further prosecution.

Art Unit: 1641

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group A through D is not totally inclusive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

7. Papers related to this application may be submitted to Group 1600 by facsimile transmission. The faxing of such papers must conform to the notice published in the Official Gazette, 1096 OG 30 (November 15, 1989). The Group 1641 Fax number is (571) 273-8300, which is able to receive transmissions 24 hours/day, 7 days/week.
